President's Report 1996-97

Technology is a means, not an end, in liberal arts education

"We are mindful that a residential college such as ours needs to continually work on creating and maintaining a close-knit community. Our use of technology facilitates those goals, as well as enhancing student learning."

In the brief time since I arrived in July 1996, the changes technology has brought to the campus are noticeable. Technology helps students learn, facilitates teaching, assists in research, and serves as a mode of communication. We are mindful that a residential college such as ours needs to continually work on creating and maintaining a close-knit community. Our use of technology facilitates those goals, as well as enhancing student learning.

If you visit the Wartburg College web page, you will quickly see the ways that we employ technology. The Trumpet, our student newspaper, is on-line every week. The Faculty Bulletin, a mainstay of campus communication, is also on-line. Many classes involve list serve and E-mail communications among students, work groups, and instructors. A number of classes include on-line outlines, lectures, and assignments.

Many of our courses require new instrumentation, new approaches to learning. As you walk across campus, you will find a symbolic computation laboratory and new laboratory instrumentation in Becker Hall. As you cross over to the Fine Arts Center, you will see that we are installing an electronic laboratory in the Music Department. Throughout the campus, technology assists us as we learn and teach.

Our commitment to technology means putting the people who use it at the center. We will continue to provide not only hardware and software, but the learning opportunities necessary for technology to serve faculty and students well.

The new library will include state-of-the-art technology application, which has as its focus not the software or the hardware, but student learning. The technology will provide access to the Wartburg College collection, to best sources on the internet, and to collections around the world.

The goal of teaching and learning at Wartburg is that students learn how to learn and how to use information throughout their lifetime. Technology assists us in that process.

President announces plans to retire

Dr. Robert L. Vogel '56 will retire June 30 at the conclusion of his 18th year as Wartburg College president.

"Sally and I have thought and prayed about this decision," Vogel said in his Sept. 25 announcement, which came as a surprise to the campus community.

"It is right for us. And with the college's sesquicentennial in 2002, and the opportunity that occasion provides for shaping a new vision and goals for the college's future, I believe this is the right decision for the college as well."

Vogel became Wartburg's 14th president in 1980, succeeding Dr. William W. Jellema. His great-grandfather, The Rev. Otto Kraushaar, was Wartburg's sixth president, serving as director at Clinton from 1900 to 1907.

"On occasions like this, people inevitably wonder, why now?" he said. "The answer is: because it is time. I am has included service to my alma mater."*

in good health and of sound mind. I still have energy. I am not unhappy. I am not discouraged about the future. It is simply time."

Vogel described the past 18 years as "the most demanding and satisfying years of my life."

"I thank God that my calling has included service to my alma mater," he said.

Fred Hagemann '67, chair of the Board of Regents, said Vogel has left an indelible mark at Wartburg in the quality of academic programming, the physical growth and appearance of the campus, and the college's financial stability.

"He has prepared the way well for Wartburg to move into the 21st century," Hagemann said.

"The board believes the college is well positioned to attract a strong pool of candidates. We are confident that the process will result in the election of a president who can continue to move the college forward."

Though Vogel will leave Wartburg, the family will still be represented on campus. Erin Hetrick '01 of Omaha, Neb., daughter of Peggy Vogel Hetrick, the president's sister, enrolled this fall.

Library will be named for Vogels

Wartburg's expanded and remodeled library will be named the Robert and Sally Vogel Library, according to action taken at the Board of Regents' fall meeting.

"This decision recognizes the outstanding leadership the Vogels have provided," said board chair Fred Hagemann '67, who noted that Wartburg is "a very different place" after Vogel's 18 years of leadership.

"The college is stronger in every area, including academic programs, opportunities for students, finances, and our reputation for excellence," Hagemann said.

The board reviewed preliminary plans for the building and authorized architect Charlie Kurt from the Durrant Group of Dubuque, Iowa, to prepare construction drawings.

Hagemann said groundbreaking for the project could take place as early as May 1998 with construction to begin soon thereafter. Anticipated completion would then be late 1999 or 2000.

The library expansion and remodeling will cost an estimated $8.9 million, including $900,000 for endowment. Dr. Richard Torgerson, vice president for development, reported that cash and commitments toward the project now total $4.51 million.

"The board's decision is a wonderful tribute to Bob and Sally," said Torgerson. "Support for this project provides an opportunity for the entire Wartburg constituency to recognize and say thanks to the Vogels for 18 years of superb leadership."

The first unit of the present library was dedicated in 1959 and named the Homuth Memorial Library. When an addition was completed in 1972, the facility was named Engelbrecht Library to honor the late Dr. August Engelbrecht, a longtime faculty member and former Wartburg president. Torgerson said the new facility will also continue to honor Engelbrecht.

NCA accreditation approved Oct. 22

The Commission on Institutions of Higher Education of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools voted to continue Wartburg's accreditation in action taken Oct. 22.

The approval follows the completion of an extensive in-house evaluation process and a two-day campus visit in January by an NCA accreditation team.

The team noted in its report that Wartburg "warrants full respect as one of the nation's best residential, undergraduate colleges."

The college's next comprehensive NCA evaluation will occur in 2006-07.

In Missouri exhibit

"Clarion Water Tower," a painting by Wartburg art professor Ed Charney was selected for Exhibit '97, a juried show sponsored by The National Oil and Acrylic Painters' Society.

Work by 61 artists was chosen from 600 entries for the November exhibit in Columbia, Mo.

Social work program reaccredited

The Wartburg Social Work Department has been reaccredited by the Council on Social Work Education through February 2005.

In recommending Wartburg for the maximum eight-year accreditation, the site visit team lauded the program's faculty, facilities, support from the administration, recruitment plan that encourages diversity, and relationships with local social service agencies.

The team also recognized the strong liberal arts program on which the Wartburg social work program is based, the advising system, and the emphasis on experiential learning.

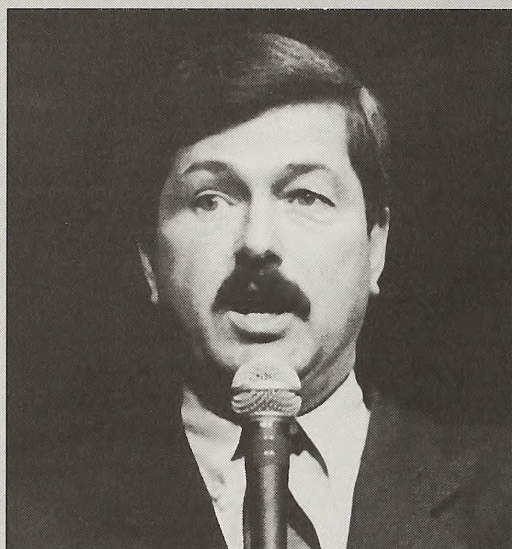

Hearst Foundation establishes scholarship

A $50,000 grant from The Hearst Foundation, Inc., of San Francisco, Calif., will establish the William Randolph Hearst Scholarship Fund at Wartburg.

The fund will provide scholarships to students who demonstrate financial need, according to Alvin Koeneman '55, senior development officer.

Publisher and philanthropist William Randolph Hearst established the foundation in 1945 to support his philanthropic interests. Supporting undergraduate education through funding endowed scholarships at private liberal arts colleges and universities is a primary focus of the foundation.

Governor to receive honorary degree

BRANSTAD AT WARTBURG—Iowa Governor Terry Branstad participated in an election-year debate at Wartburg in 1994.

Wartburg will confer an honorary degree on Iowa Gov. Terry Branstad in a ceremony Thursday, Dec. 4. The honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree recognizes Branstad's support of private higher education in Iowa, particularly through the Iowa Tuition Grant Program.

The presentation will take place at a special 4 p.m. ceremony in the Wartburg Chapel. A reception will follow in the halls of the Classroom Technology Center. Both events are open to the public.

The Iowa Tuition Grant Program provides financial assistance to Iowa students who attend a private college or university in the state. This year, 644 Wartburg students receive a total of $2,152,925 in tuition assistance from the program. Statewide, approximately 14,500 students are sharing $41.7 million.

Wartburg President Robert L. Vogel said Branstad, who first took office in 1982, has consistently been a friend to education. Initiatives implemented during the governor's administration include the statewide fiber-optic telecommunications network, to which Wartburg belongs, and the School Improvement and Technology Program, designed to help Iowa schools prepare for the 21st century.

Branstad currently chairs the Education Commission of the States.

Hagemann will chair Board of Regents

Fred Hagemann '67 of Waverly was re-elected to a two-year term as chair of the 27-member Wartburg Board of Regents at its fall meeting in October.

Other officers elected to two-year terms were Todd Bachman, Farmington, Minn., vice chair; Lynne W. Shotwell, Glenview, Ill., secretary; Sandra Rada-Aleff, Waverly, and Dr. Ralph Otto '63, Wilmette, Ill., executive committee members.

Ending their service on the board were R. Thompson Zackery '73, Rochester, Minn.; the Rev. Dennis Dickman '59, West Des Moines, Iowa; and Julian Slotter '57, Orlando, Fla.

New board members are Robert Smith, Waterloo, Iowa; Dr. Gil Wessel '59, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Dr. Arthur King, Winston-Salem, N.C.; and Dr. Hans Peter Brodhun, Lord Mayor of Eisenach, Germany.

Torkelson directs U.S. Choir on tour

Dr. Paul Torkelson '76, director of the Wartburg Choir and Castle Singers, directed the United States Collegiate Choir, which toured Europe July 4-24.

Sixty high school students from across the United States were chosen for the group. They rehearsed in New York City June 30-July 3, then performed eight concerts in France, Switzerland, Italy, Austria, Germany, The Netherlands, and England.

The choir's repertoire was a combination of sacred and secular choral literature, according to Torkelson. He was chosen to direct the group after conducting the Indiana All-State Chorus. His wife, Dr. Suzanne Torkelson '77, served as accompanist for the group.

Wartburg prank makes Rolling Stone

A fall 1996 aerial prank commanded by two Wartburg students made a list of notable campus highjinks in Rolling Stone magazine's Oct. 16 issue.

Wartburg was listed with Yale University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the University of Chicago, the University of Wisconsin, and Louisiana State University in a column describing memorable pranks of the 1996-97 year.

"The Luther flyover" made state headlines and a mention on the ESPN television network after David Max '98 of Hickory, N.C., and Jeff Huber '99 of Keota, Iowa, flew a rented plane to Luther College and dropped pamphlets warning of a "holy war."

Wartburg recognized on national list

Wartburg is one of 135 colleges on the John Templeton Foundation's 1997-98 Honor Roll for Character-Building Colleges.

The biennial honor roll recognizes schools that promote character development by:

- inspiring students to develop and strengthen moral reasoning skills.
- encouraging spiritual growth and moral values.
- providing community-building experiences.
- advocating a drug-free lifestyle.
- conducting a critical assessment of character-building programs and activities.

TEMPLETON AWARD—Wartburg Social Work Department chair Susan Vallem '66 accepts a crystal plate from John Templeton, Jr., at an awards ceremony for colleges named to the John Templeton Foundation's 1997-98 Honor Roll for Character-Building Colleges. Former U.S. Secretary of Education Lamar Alexander, right, also attended the event, which was held in Washington, D.C. Vallem is spending a sabbatical year in the nation's capital as a lobbyist for social welfare concerns.

Five administrative staff members join campus community

Heather McClintock

Five new members joined the Wartburg administrative staff this fall.

They include Heather McClintock '95, admissions counselor; Adele Rodriguez, director of campus programming; Jon Kenney, microcomputer and network support specialist in computer services; Jennifer Sassman, assistant director of financial aid/student employment coordinator; and Christopher Hawkins, residence hall director.

McClintock, whose territory is Western Iowa, Nebraska, and South Dakota, had worked in admissions at Texas Lutheran University, Seguin, Texas, since graduating from Wartburg. She replaces Brian Bowman '89, now director of admissions at Grand View College, Des Moines, Iowa.

Rodriguez replaces Todd Masman, who accepted a similar position at Hamline University in St. Paul, Minn.

Adele Rodriguez

Jon Kenney

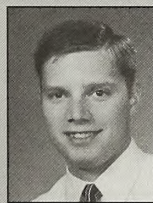

Jennifer Sassman

She was formerly a graduate assistant in the Educational Leadership, Counseling, and Postsecondary Education program at the University of Northern Iowa.

Kenney provides support for the campus PC and Macintosh microcomputers. He also installs, upgrades, and troubleshoots campus software and operating systems and supervises student employees.

Sassman had been the financial aid coordinator at Allen School of Nursing in Waterloo, Iowa, before replacing Dan Kielman '93 in the Wartburg Financial Aid Office. Kielman took a job the Waverly business community.

Hawkins works in Grossmann Hall and The Residence. He had been a residential life staff member at Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill. He is a 1997 Augustana graduate.

Record-setting enrollment tops 1,500 mark

Wartburg's 1997-98 enrollment put the college over the 1,500 mark for the first time in history and established three new records.

Enrollment totals 1,528, up 61 from last year's record-breaking mark of 1,467. The number of full-time students stands at 1,412, breaking the 1989 record of 1,361. Full-time equivalency, which factors in part-time enrollment, is 1,469 and tops a 1968 record of 1,425.

The student body includes 125 American ethnic students (8 percent) and 66 international students (4 percent) from 30 different countries.

This year's 465 new students were selected from a record pool of 1,500 applicants from 16 states and 20 countries. Admissions director Doug Bowman '86 said 38 percent of the first-year students graduated in the top 10 percent of their high school class, 66 percent ranked the upper quarter, and 33 students were class valedictorians.

The average ACT score of the first-year class is 24.3, up from 23.6 a year ago. The college awarded merit-based Regents or Presidential Scholarships to 73 percent of the first-year students. The awards are based on academic rank, ACT score, and results of an on-campus essay and interview.

This year, 46 high school students are enrolled at Wartburg through the Post-Secondary Enrollment Options Act.

Faculty members publish books

Books by Dr. Walter C. Bouzard, Jr., assistant professor of religion, and Dr. Janice G. Yee, associate professor of economics, were published last summer.

Bouzard's book, We Have Heard with Our Ears, O God: Sources of the Communal Laments in the Psalms, was published by the Society of Biblical Literature in its dissertation series. It is based on his 1996 doctoral dissertation at Princeton Theological Seminary.

Yee's book, Determinants of Intra-Industry Trade: The Case for U.S.-Canadian Trade 1967-1982, was published by Garland Publishing of Hamden, Conn. The publisher calls it, "an important contribution to the understanding of recent historical developments in trade between the United States and Canada." It is an extension of Yee's doctoral dissertation at Clark University, Worcester, Mass.

ELCA scholarship to medical student

Stephen Mindrup '97 is one of six winners nationwide of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America's Torrison Scholarship for medical education.

He is the fourth Wartburg student in the past five years to receive the scholarship, which awards $5,000 toward the costs of medical education.

A chemistry major at Wartburg, Mindrup was named the department's outstanding senior last spring. He was one of three Wartburg students among 12 applicants granted early admission to this fall's entering class at the University of Iowa College of Medicine.

Mindrup completed a 1996 summer research internship at the Hormel Institute in Austin, Minn., where he studied neurological disorders, especially Alzheimer's disease and Parkinson's disease.

Iowa Bandmasters present award to Lee

Dr. Robert E. Lee, professor emeritus of music, received a Karl L. King Distinguished Service Award from the Iowa Bandmasters Association in May.

The IBA's highest award is named after the late Iowa composer, performer, and band conductor Karl L. King. It is presented annually to one retired and one active band director.

Lee retired in 1995 after 37 years as director of bands at Wartburg. He also chaired the Wartburg Music Department from 1968 to 1970.

'97 grad receives NCAA scholarship

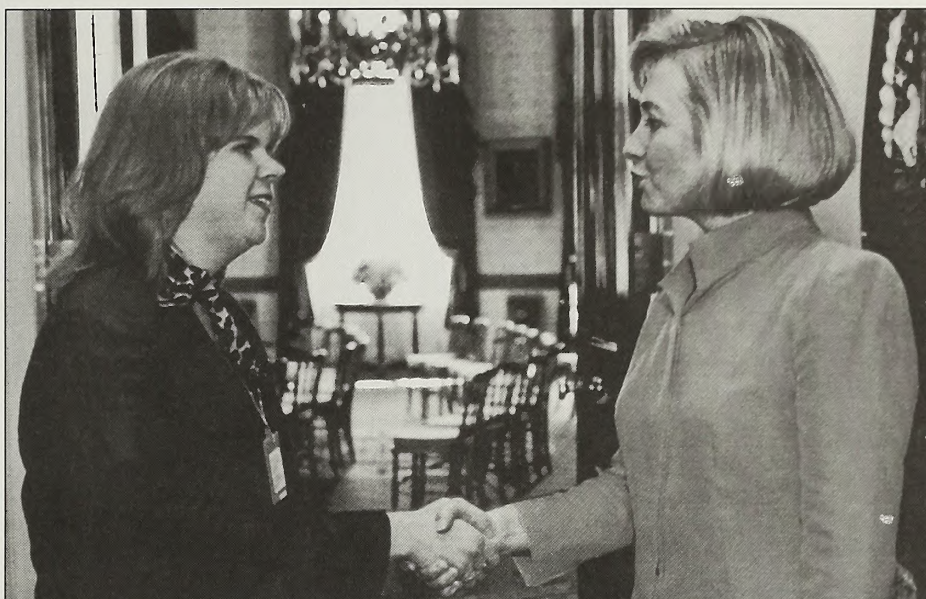

Kara Kehe '97 of Readlyn, Iowa, is one of 12 women selected to receive 1997 postgraduate scholarships through the NCAA women's enhancement program.

The one-year, $6,000 scholarships go to women who have completed undergraduate degrees and plan to enter sports administration or related programs.

Kehe is enrolled in a sport and leisure management program at the University of Iowa. She was a two-time letterwinner as a pitcher for Wartburg's softball team and was named to the Iowa Conference's All-Academic Team in 1996.

As a Wartburg student, she researched gender-equity issues in the Iowa Conference. She also studied the administration of athletic departments, including recruiting and facilities management.

Kehe is the 15th Wartburg athlete to win an NCAA postgraduate scholarship.

Wartburg student interns at White House

Kerry Wright '97 of Grinnell, Iowa, missed her Wartburg graduation last May to begin what she calls "the internship experience of a lifetime." Wright worked as an unpaid volunteer in First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton's office at the White House for six weeks. A member of the scheduling staff, Wright helped sort through the 2,000 pieces of mail coming into the First Lady's office each week. She also responded to telephone requests and questions. On three occasions, she accompanied Mrs. Clinton to events in the nation's capital. In an interview about the experience with Des Moines Register columnist Chuck Offenburger, Wright described the First Lady as a brilliant woman, very witty and easy to be around."

Mathis wins national media award

Liz Mathis, chair of the Wartburg Communication Arts Department, was one of three winners of 1997 "Breaking the Mold" awards from the American Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgeons.

Mathis was recognized for a two-part television report on Operation Smile, an international effort in which physicians and healthcare professionals provide free care to the poor.

Her story followed Dr. John Canady, a specialist in cleft lip and palate surgery at University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics. Canady, another physician, and a nurse from Iowa City volunteered for two weeks in the Philippines, screening approximately 500 children with cleft lip and palate, determining which youngsters should have surgery, and performing operations.

Two students accompanied Mathis on the trip. Tim Stockman '97, of Iowa City, Iowa, assisted with the television story. Eric Allen '98 of Montezuma, Iowa, reported on Operation Smile for the print media.

Former staff member writes second book

Carol W. Lee, a Wartburg staff member from 1973 to 1977, is the author of her second book, Kitchen Calamities and God's Grace: Stories and Metaphors, published by G & R Publishing of Waverly.

The book, which may be purchased for $6.50 through the Wartburg Bookstore, contains devotionals, mostly humorous true-life stories of kitchen disasters, and a few recipes.

Lee's husband, Millard, taught physics at Wartburg.

Women compile best GPA in Division III

The 1996-97 Wartburg women's basketball team compiled the best grade point average in the nation for a Division III school.

After a near miss last year, the Knights topped the 1997 Academic Top-25 Honor Roll released by the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA). The team compiled a 3.621 cumulative grade point average. The University of St. Thomas (Minn.) was second with a 3.514.

Last year, Wartburg missed the top spot by a just a thousandth of a point in the first such WBCA honor roll.

The 1996-97 Knights were 16-8 in all games and tied Luther for second place in the Iowa Conference with a 12-4 record.

Teaching, learning go high-tech

► by Linda Moeller

At Wartburg's Becker Hall of Science, first-year students use sophisticated laboratory equipment to isolate DNA and identify genes.

At the Fine Arts Center, a music technology classroom enhances courses in music theory, composition, ear training, and music history.

In the Classroom Technology Center, faculty use specially equipped classrooms to enrich their teaching. And they bring experts to campus electronically through the Iowa Communication Network (ICN) and satellite communication.

At the McElroy Communication Arts Center, students produce convocation broadcasts for live transmission to high schools and other Iowa colleges.

Soon, student teachers at Wartburg West will take a required Wartburg education course through a distance-learning hook-up. And political science students will have a direct conversation with Iowa Senator Charles Grassley through a satellite connection between Washington, D.C., and Waverly.

Technology is benefiting all areas of instruction at Wartburg, and several grants are helping fund the college's extensive investment in technological resources.

Dr. Daniel Gretch, assistant professor of biology, wrote a successful $25,000 National Science Foundation grant proposal last spring to increase the exposure of all students to molecular biology. The George I. Alden Trust of Worcester, Mass., matched the NSF grant, allowing Wartburg to install laboratory equipment used in isolating DNA and conducting genetic research.

"It puts tools used in the highest cutting-edge research labs anywhere in the world into the hands of our students," says Gretch. Biology majors will use the equipment in three required courses and in as many as five biology electives. Previously, genetics was the only course that covered DNA topics.

Gretch says a unique feature of Wartburg's expanded capabilities in molecular biology is that non-majors and first-year students will have access to the new technology in introductory courses.

"It will help them see that these are not isolated tools," Gretch says, noting that genetic research affects nearly all aspects of life.

In the Music Department, students will soon benefit from an expanded electronic music classroom. Funds for this project were provided by a $40,000 grant from The reinforce the concepts Torkelson teaches. All of these tools are at her disposal in the presentation station.

Dr. Terrence Lindell, professor of history, is known unofficially as the campus pioneer in multimedia teaching. He uses Hypercard software to link text

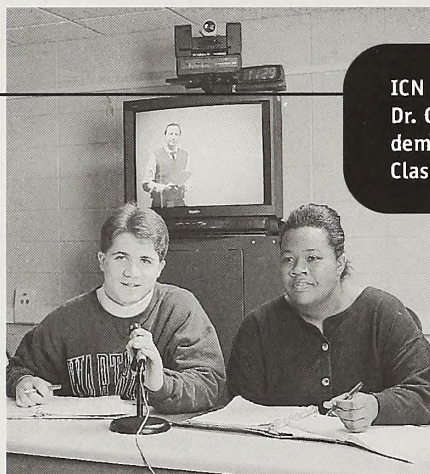

As the Biology Department implements new technology, "We'll have to make a commitment to learning how to use it," says Gretch, noting that it is another demand on professors already busy with teaching, student advising, and research.

Technology also allows professors to bring off-campus experts to the classroom electronically.

Using the ICN classroom in the Classroom Technology Center, students in a media law class recently visited with Herb Strentz, executive director of the Iowa Freedom of Information Council. They watched Strentz on television monitors in the room, and he could see the class through a monitor at a studio in Des Moines. Class members could ask questions through microphones located at each classroom station.

"The ICN is a two-way video communication system that connects ICN CLASSROOM—Paul Yeager '98 and Marylee Camp '96 and Dr. Gregory Scholtz, associate professor of English, in monitor, demonstrate the two-way interactive video equipment in Wartburg's Classroom Technology Center.

"Up to this point, we had only two computers equipped with a limited amount of music software," says Dr. Eric Wachmann of the music faculty. The new classroom will see extensive use by classes. Wachmann says it will also familiarize music education students with the tools increasingly available in the elementary and secondary school classrooms where they will teach.

The presentation station in the music classroom will be similar to one in the Classroom Technology Center, where faculty members have become adept at incorporating audiovisual resources into their classes.

Dr. Suzanne Torkelson, who teaches a music appreciation course for non-music majors, says using a projection screen allows students to see what they're hearing.

"You can listen to a lot of music and not get anything out of it," she says. Videos of performances, laser discs that follow the written score as the music is played, and computer-generated outlines projected on the screen all help on a computer screen to maps, paintings, drawings, and historical documents in many of his presentations. He also incorporates music and video to bring the sometimes-dry subject of history alive.

Wachmann, Torkelson, Lindell, and Gretch all agree that faculty development is essential as Wartburg adapts curriculum to advances in technology. Torkelson says a technology symposium made her aware of resources available for the classroom, and a three-hour hands-on workshop gave her confidence in using multimedia tools. Lindell, who began using multimedia technology even before Wartburg opened the Classroom Technology Center, has shared his expertise with many other faculty members.

"In the past year, dozens of faculty members have begun using classroom presentation equipment," observes Tom Hausmann, director of academic computing. Hausmann says the college has tried to make this equipment available through permanent installations in classrooms and the science hall auditorium as well as with portable computer-projection stations that can be taken from room to room.

"It's a great way to bring resources into classrooms without paying people to travel here."

over 600 sites within Iowa," explains David Harrenstein '70, electronic media specialist who coordinates use of the ICN classroom. "Wherever you are in Iowa, you're usually within 10 miles of an ICN site."

Cello students take lessons on the ICN from Dr. John Ehrlich, a retired Drake University professor who teaches from a similarly equipped classroom in Des Moines.

"It's a great way to bring resources into classrooms without paying people to travel here," says Harrenstein.

For the first time this year, Wartburg is also using the ICN to export campus programs to subscribers around Iowa. Luther College, St. Ambrose University, Graceland College, and three high schools tuned in to a human rights convocation broadcast in October. Another convocation is set for live transmission Jan. 13.

"I don't think anyone else in Iowa has done this," says Harrenstein, adding that communication arts majors handle the technical aspects of the broadcasts.

"Students are excited about it because it's a destination for their work," he says.

Paula Survilla, who teaches classes at both Wartburg and the University of Northern Iowa, plans to teach a UNI class from the Wartburg ICN classroom. The arrangement will save her a drive to Cedar Falls and permit UNI to offer the class on campus as well as at other ICN sites.

Beyond Iowa, Wartburg can downlink satellite programming for campus use, and conversely, uplink campus programming for satellite transmission.

This fall, Nelson Bock, co-director of the Wartburg West program in Denver, Colo., spoke with fellow Wartburg faculty members through a satellite feed from a classroom in Denver, Colo.

In January, education majors who do their student teaching at Wartburg

West will participate from Denver in a Wartburg education class. In the past, student teachers have had to join the Wartburg West group late, because they had to complete a seven-week methods course on campus. Now, they'll be able to go to Denver at the beginning of the term. Dr. Les Huth will teach the class from the college's ICN classroom, and it will be transmitted by another new technology, compressed video, to a Colorado State University classroom in Denver.

"We've tested it, and it works," says Harrenstein. "It's really kind of exciting—it's breaking new ground."

Electronic media students use satellite technology to pick up news feeds from the CNN network for classroom projects, and Harrenstein makes a monthly list of satellite programming available to faculty members, who may decide to use the material in their classes or tape it for later use. Off-campus groups also use the ICN facility.

"We're working very hard to focus our technology developments on instruction and the stated mission of the college," says Hausmann. "The diversity of what faculty are doing with educational technology is increasing rapidly. They've gone beyond using computers primarily for spreadsheets, E-mail, and word processing."

Dr. Richard Torgerson, vice president for development, notes that beyond grants and capital projects that involve technology, Wartburg relies on annual giving to help provide the technological resources students need to prepare for the 21st century.

"Thanks to gifts from alumni, parents, and friends, we can continue to provide students with distinctive educational programs enhanced by technology," he said. ■

MUSIC TECHNOLOGY—Peter Iversen '99 uses a MIDI keyboard and music software to produce a conductor's score from the manuscript of a recently commissioned work for piano and orchestra.

Iversen's work is part of an Academic Partners program in which students receive stipends for performing assignments that enhance their intellectual competence. He is majoring in both chemistry and music.

Wartburg faculty and staff members remembered

Funeral services for four longtime members of the Wartburg College faculty and staff were held in Waverly during the summer and fall.

The Rev. Harold G. Becker, 77, former director of church relations, died June 7 at Bartels Lutheran Home in Waverly from complications of Parkinson's disease.

Loreen B. Grube, 86, retired director of food services, died June 25 of heart failure at Bartels Lutheran Home in Waverly.

Samuel S. Michaelson, 71, professor emeritus of English, died July 16 of natural causes at Allen Memorial Hospital in Waterloo, Iowa.

Jean Peddle, 60, secretary in the Financial Affairs Office, died Oct. 6 in Rochester, Minn., as the result of injuries she sustained in a bicycle accident.

The Rev. Harold G. Becker

A 1942 Wartburg graduate, Becker served in the U.S. Army during World War II, then earned a Master of Science degree in history at the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

After completing a divinity degree at Wartburg Seminary in Dubuque, Iowa, he served congregations in Denver and Sterling, Colo., and taught religion at Dana College, Blair, Neb.

He was Wartburg's director of church relations for 13 years, then re-entered the parish ministry, serving Immanuel Lutheran Church in Omaha, Neb. The onset of Parkinson's disease led to his retirement and move back to Waverly in 1983.

He received an Alumni Citation in 1982 recognizing his service to Wartburg College.

Alumni survivors include his wife, Anne Aardal '43 Becker of Waverly; his children, Kristi Becker-Platz '70 of Cologne, Germany; Jane Becker '72 Miller of Springfield, Ill.; John Becker '73 and his wife, Roberta Dagle '74 Becker of Minneapolis, Minn.; and Carolyn Becker '75 Myles of Bitburg, Germany. Other surviving alumni include Harold's twin brother, Arnold Becker '42 of Brockway, Pa.; , and a sister and brother-in-law, Barbara Becker '49 Nutter and Dr. O. Richard Nutter '50 of Minot, N.D.

Samuel S. Michaelson

Michaelson joined the Wartburg English Department in 1966 and retired in 1992. He chaired the English Department for several years and was named Professor of the Year in 1990.

A World War II veteran, he was active in the resettlement of displaced persons, first working in Germany in 1950 and then with Vietnamese refugees in the United States in 1975.

He spent part of his career as a professional organist, church musician, and piano teacher. He was a graduate of Augsburg College, Minneapolis, Minn., and had done graduate work at the University of Minnesota and Augsburg Seminary.

Alumni survivors include Michaelson's wife, Marilyn '75, retired college switchboard operator and Bookstore employee, of Waverly; three sons, Charles '77 and his wife Barbara Eggers '79 Michaelson of Coralville, Iowa; Dr. Robert Michaelson '80, stationed in Mildenhall, England, with the U.S. Air Force; and Dr. Richard Michaelson '86 of Iowa City, Iowa.

Loreen B. Grube

Remembered as "Ma Grube" by thousands of Wartburg students, Grube spent 26 years as director of the food service. She began working at Wartburg in 1945 and retired in 1971. She had lived in her own home until eight months before her death. In the mid-1970s, she was elected national president of the WaTanYe Club.

Alumni survivors include a son, Dr. David Grube '61, and a grandson and his wife, Eric '90 and Patti Menold '90 Grube, all of Minneapolis, Minn.

Jean Peddle

Peddle had worked at Wartburg for the past 28 years, most recently as secretary for the vice president for financial affairs. She had contact with many students through scheduling drivers for college functions.

She had been on a Minnesota bike trail excursion with her husband and several friends on Sunday, Oct. 5, when the accident occurred.

Her funeral was held Oct. 10 at the Wartburg Chapel.

"For all that has been—THANKS! For all that will be—YES!"

This message from a Sister Corita poster was the theme for my inauguration in 1980. It has been on my mind these days—particularly the "for what will be." Even as Sally and I plan to leave Wartburg, we should be thinking about the college's future.

Imagine in your mind the excitement on the day Wartburg dedicates its new library. The year is 2000. The Learner's Library at Wartburg will be a dynamic symbol of a new decade and a new century in the college's life. The facility will be impressive both architecturally and functionally. The teaching and learning the library facilitates will be a mark of Wartburg's academic quality, a sign of its commitment to students, and a daily reminder of the rich value in the life of the mind.

Picture the crowd of witnesses gathered before the library for the celebration. The new president is presiding; the faculty is united in its commitment to students and the academic experience it has shaped for the future; students are there from around the world, with diverse ethnic and cultural heritages; all are joined by alumni and friends whose prayers, efforts, and gifts have made possible the dawning of this new era in Wartburg's history.

For that dream to become reality, we must raise a lot of money, not only for the library, but through annual gifts and cash and deferred commitments to endow academic programs, faculty and staff development, and student scholarships.

If this dream is to be realized, we must all have a part in it. I know the college can count on your loyal support, as your recognition in this report attests.

O Lord, for all that has been—thanks! And for all that will be—YES!

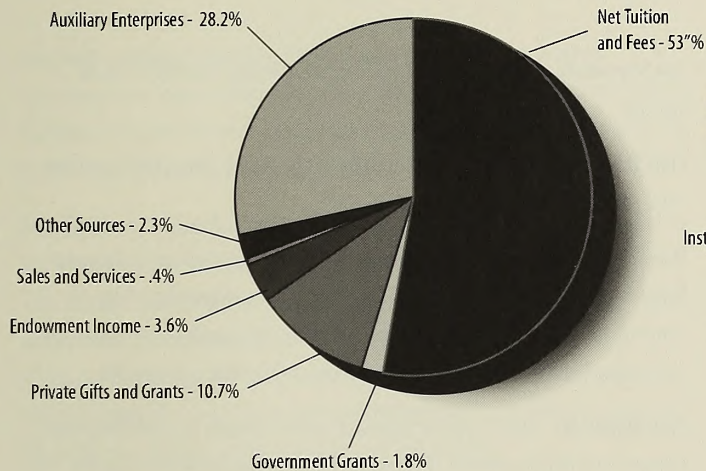

Robert L. Vogel, president

HERITAGE CLUB

The Wartburg College Heritage Club, established in 1977, provides recognition for alumni, parents, and friends who designate a future gift for Wartburg as part of their estate plan. Membership now includes more than 924 individuals who represent 573 families. Some members choose to remain anonymous. Documented future provisions for the college by Heritage Club members have grown to more than $22 million.

Heritage Club continues to be a major factor in building the college endowment. The endowment has tripled in the last 10 years. It must triple again in the next 10 years. Endowment secures the future of Wartburg: the quality of teaching and scholarships, the support of qualified students, the character and appearance of the campus.

You can make a difference for Wartburg now and in the future by joining this group of committed alumni, parents, and friends who care enough to include the college in their future estate plans. To become a member of Heritage Club, simply inform us that you have made provision for a future gift to Wartburg. Examples of such gifts include wills, bequests, life estate plans, trust arrangements, life insurance, charitable gift annuities, qualified retirement plans, and the establishment of an endowed scholarship or restricted endowment. A Heritage Club brochure with a membership enrollment form is available from the Development Office.

TOWER CLUB

Annual Gifts Adding Value

The Tower Club recognizes alumni, parents, and friends of the college who provide $100 or more to Wartburg's Annual Giving program. Priorities for annual support in 1996-97 included scholarships, campus technology, and ensuring facilities that allow Wartburg to offer an enriching academic and residential experience. Annual gifts support special initiatives and provide a dependable stream of income to support opportunities for students that are critical to Wartburg's distinctiveness and excellence. It would take an additional $23 million in endowment to replace the revenues your annual gift provides the college each year. Membership levels include:

Diamond	$5,000 and above
Platinum	$2,500-$4,999
Gold	$1,000-$2,499
Silver	$500-$999
Bronze	$250-$499
Orange & Black	$100-$249

Tower Club recognition includes the following parameters:

- Matching gift funds are credited to the donor's contribution for recognition.
- Membership levels in this report include gifts received from June 1, 1996, through May 31, 1997.

THE STALWARTS

Wartburg's continuing ability to provide students with the opportunity to explore possibilities and make learning an adventure is made possible by many alumni, parents, and friends who have been steadfast in their support. We are proud to highlight for special acknowledgement The Stalwarts—those alumni, parents, and friends who gave a gift this year and have also given annual support to Wartburg for the past 10 years. We also recognize other Stalwarts, those whose cumulative gifts to Wartburg range from $10,000 to $49,999.

ALUMNI

To the alumni whose names appear in this report, we say thank you. One of the marks of a distinctive college is the percentage of alumni who contribute annual support for the college's mission and vision. At Wartburg, the roll of alumni includes those who have attended the college for at least one year. In 1996-97, 20 percent of former students and 34 percent of graduates provided support for the college.

The roll of alumni donors on the following pages includes the total amount contributed by each class. With your continuing support, we will achieve and sustain our goal of 40 percent annual alumni participation.

*Company matching gift funds were received in addition to the donor's contribution.

PARENTS

Wartburg parents are a key to the college's future. In addition to their financial assistance, parents also provide the college with students, and they are effective in telling the Wartburg story.

Wartburg College thanks parents for their loyalty and participation. "Once a Wartburg parent, always a Wartburg parent." Your interest and support are appreciated.

ENDOWMENT

Wartburg's endowment has grown from $800,000 in 1977 to more than $25 million today. It has tripled during the last 10 years. Future gifts to the college through wills, life insurance, trusts, annuities, and retirement funds account for an estimated $23 million more.

Endowment is a resource that keeps on giving and giving, providing ongoing support for scholarships, academic programs, and faculty and staff development. As part of the new library project, Wartburg will also establish an endowment to support ongoing maintenance and technology needs in the facility.

The college will continue to emphasize endowment gifts as a means of keeping Wartburg accessible to the students it serves.

Voice of Texas Rangers silenced

Mark Holtz '67, longtime announcer for the Texas Rangers of the American Baseball League, died Sept. 7 of complications from a bone marrow transplant for treatment of leukemia.

Holtz was the radio voice of the Rangers from 1981 to 1994 and then became the team's play-by-play television announcer. He broadcast his final game May 22 and underwent the transplant June 18 at Baylor University Medical Center. He was never able to return home.

Holtz was honored as Texas Sportscaster of the Year eight times and was elected to the Texas Baseball Hall of Fame in 1980. He received a Wartburg Alumni Citation in 1994 and spoke at a campus convocation that same week.

News of his death prompted an outpouring of tributes in the Texas media from journalists, broadcasters, baseball players, managers, and fans across the country.

Eric Nadel, who worked with Holtz as a color person, said, "Mark's strength as an announcer was that he could capture moments better than any other announcer

I ever worked with or ever heard. He could paint word pictures of dramatic moments. I knew there were times when I didn't have to say a word."

"Mark was not only a tremendous professional but a tremendous person," said Toronto broadcaster Jerry Howarth. "It was a privilege to have known him. It doesn't quite seem the same going to Texas without him being there."

Holtz worked for radio stations in Waverly, Scottsbluff, Neb., Omaha, Neb., Peoria, Ill., and Denver, Colo., before moving to the Dallas-Fort Worth area as the announcer for the National Basketball Association's Dallas Mavericks in 1980. Within a year, he was a unanimous choice to take over as announcer for the Rangers.

His first broadcast work, however, was as the voice of the Knights. In 1967, his final season with KWAR-FM, he memorialized Wartburg's first of nine consecutive Iowa Conference basketball championships with an album, Hail to the Champs. The piece won a national award from the College Sports Information Directors of America.
